State of Georgia Nurse Aide Training Manual

6. What should I do if I lose my certification card?

You can request a replacement certification card by printing a Certification Card Request Form to mail to the registry via the Georgia Web portal (www.mmis.georgia.gov), click on the Nurse Aide Tab or calling the telephone Interactive Voice Response System at (678) 527-3010 (local) or (800) 414-1044.

7. Does Georgia recognize the certification as an aide that I obtained from another state (reciprocity)?

Yes, if you are currently listed as active and in good standing on another state's Nurse Aide Registry in accordance with the federal requirements and you wish to be certified in Georgia, you may obtain a Reciprocity Application via the Georgia Web portal or via request by calling the NAP.

8. Do Certified Nurse Aides have to receive in-service education?

Certified Nurse Aides working in a licensed Medicaid/Medicare facility must attend at least 12 hours of in-service education offered by the facility. Each facility is required to submit in-service information to the Nurse Aide Program, including names of CNA employees attending those in-services.

9. Can a LPN or RN become a certified nurse aide without taking the nurse aide training course?

Yes, a LPN or RN who has applied to take their licensing examination may become certified by completing the first 16 hours of training required before "hands-on" patient care and then successfully completing the Written/Oral and Skills Competency Exam.

10. Is a background check required for employment as a Certified Nurse Aide?

Not all licensed facilities are required to conduct background checks as a condition of employment. Only personal care homes and nursing homes are required by law to conduct criminal background checks. A certified nurse aide may work for an employer that is not required by law to obtain a criminal background check.

11. What happens when a certified nurse aide is accused of abusing, neglecting or misappropriating residents' property?

The facility notifies the Long Term Care Section of the HealthCare Facility Regulation Division. The Long Term Care Section reviews the information gathered by the facility and may conduct an on site investigation if it determines that it is necessary. If the Section believes that the aide did abuse, neglect or misappropriate resident's property, then the Section sends the aide a letter advising him or her of the findings and giving the aide an opportunity to send in a written statement explaining what happened. The aide also has the right to request an administrative hearing. In the hearing, the judge would decide whether the aide abused, neglected or misappropriated a resident's property. If the judge finds the accusation to be true, then the finding against the aide would be entered in the Georgia Nurse Aide Registry.

12. Can I perform the duties of a nurse aide before I am certified?

All nursing homes have four (4) months from the date of hire to get an individual trained and tested through a State approved program. During the four-month grace period students cannot perform any duty that they have not been trained and checked off as proficient by the instructor. Aides employed by a nursing home must show competency by successful completion of a state-approved competency test prior to any unsupervised client contact.

13. My certification has expired. Can I renew it?

Certified nursing aides must renew their certification every two years. You can renew during this period by submitting a completed renewal application which verifies that you provide eight (8) hours of nursing related services for pay under the supervision of a nurse during the two-year span in which your certification was active.

If lapsed under three years without work verification, then you must retake and pass the State written/oral and skills competency examination to update your certification. If lapsed over three years, then you must complete another State approved nurse aide training program and pass the State written/oral and skills competency examination.
